Don't forget the date; bring 'em in any way they will come, walking, trotting, pacing, singlefoot or running; its all one, as long as you get here. We'll give you an all round good time, a square deal and a big dinner, and guarantee you won't have to ride home on shank's mare. By order of

HORSE SWAPPING COMMITTEE.

The Tide Is Turning.

The time was not so many years ago that every particle of box material in which the orange crop of Florida was sent north and west came from Maine. Now Florida manufacturers, with Florida wood, supply the boxing material for our citrus fruits, but we note that the Warnell Veneering Co., of Warnell, Sumter county, through its president, Dexter C. Thompson, during a recent visit North, made large sales of crating material to Baltimore, Boston and New York houses. Previous to the Cuban rebellion, this company did a large business with that country, which the war cut off.

A Big Transfer.

O. T. Green, one of Ocala's shining legal lights, was engaged last week in examining the records of Sumter county on orange grove property around Panasoffkee Lake, that before the freeze represented a value of $150,000. The title proving good, this grove property was purchased at a neat figure by his client, Mr. Camp, one of the large phosphate miners of Campville.

Received an Ovation.

Miss Cisneros, the fair Cuban who, after fifteen months' imprisonment in Havana by order of Weyler, was liberated through the efforts of Ralph Duval, a New York Journal reporter, arrived in New York Wednesday and received a grand ovation from her Cuban friends and others.

Accidentally Shot.

A special from Blue Springs says:

Mrs. J. Busbee had returned from the well on the 11th inst. at 4 p. m. with two buckets of water and had reached the front door when her hands got tired, and to rest them, she started to set the buckets down, when, accidentally, the 38 calibre revolver, which she was carrying in her apron pocket, slipped out and the hammer struck on the top of the bucket, which exploded the cartridge, and the ball struck her in the jaw, breaking her jaw bone and knocking out three teeth, the ball lodging in the back of the neck. Luckily, the shot was not fatal.

At 7 p. m. the doctor from Dunnellon arrived and extracted the ball and the last report we had from her, she was resting moderately easy.
